Vend-Inc recognizes Valerie Chavez for January's Employee of the Month

January's employee of the month is Valerie Chavez. Valerie is part of the communications department and she's a very hard worker. She plays a very important role in the company because she designs the company's monthly calendar and takes part in the company's newsletter as well. Valerie was asked to tell us how she felt about being employee of the month and her response was " I feel very honored and accomplished. I'm very excited because I've put in a lot of work into every task Daisy Sorto has assigned to me." Congratulations to Valerie Chavez on being awarded for her amazing work.

How to communicate with coworkers effectively

Vend-Inc. gives advice about communicating well with others

1. Be enthusiastic. Enthusiasm is infectious. If you're going to spend eight hours a day at work, why not make it more than just tolerable.

Make an effort to smile, laugh, and enjoy your job. If you work to create a more positive attitude in the workplace, others will follow. 2. Practice random acts of kindness. Each day try to do something kind and helpful. Offer to cover for a coworker so they can attend their kid's soccer game, bring a busy colleague a cup of coffee, or volunteer for a project. You don't have to create elaborate situations, just keep your eyes out for opportunities to do a good deed.
